Summary

My name is Gabriel Ramos, and I am frontend developer with high experience using React Native and other technologies like React.js, Redux Saga, Javascript, Typescript, HTML/CSS, Sass, PHP, WordPress and others.

Currently, I am React Native developer at the largest international e-commerce Company in Latin America, in which I am React Native developer, working in the Cross Border team, using React Native and its technologies to develop Soub! mobile app. This Company is the owner of Americanas.com, Soubarato.com, Submarino.com and Shoptime.com.

Previously, I was working in a startup company as Tech Lead of React Native projects, having also the SCRUM Master position at the Company development team. You can find more about the companies and its projects on https://www.loomertech.com.br.

Most of my previous experience - from 2018 to 2021 - were based on frontend development using many other technologies and tools, as I have been part of many important projects, and worked even for State Government projects, like https://www.amperj.org, and others using .NET Framework, Wordpress, Javascript, JQuery, HTML, CSS, Sass, PHP and so on.

I am searching for some opportunity in which I can have a great career improvement, as I am always looking for skills increasing, and the result is always seeing the company in which I am work for achieving the highest with my full dedication.
